Summit for the Education Master Plan Update Held

PCC President Dr. Patrick U. Tellei (third from left, back row) participating in an employers' discussion during the Education Summit

Last week, an education summit on the revision and update of the Palau Education Master Plan was held at the Ngarachamayong Cultural Center. Participants of the summit included students, teachers, parents, school principals, employers, public leaders, public agencies, non-governmental organizations (NGOs), and religious groups. Covering five (5) sessions, the education summit was an opportunity for the participants to discuss the following aspects of Palau's education plan: student success, instructional quality, curriculum enhancement, technology advancement, and resource support.

The education summit opened with a keynote address from Republic of Palau President Tommy E. Remengesau, Jr. President Remengesau was followed by Mr. Mark Manns from the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) Office in Bangkok. Mr. Manns was involved with the Education Policy and Master Plan Reform Unit. He led the participants in a review of the education master plan currently in place. The Education Master Plan aims to improve education programs & services provided in Palau.

Palau Community College is an accessible public educational institution helping to meet the technical, academic, cultural, social, and economic needs of students and communities by promoting learning opportunities and developing personal excellence.

PCC to Host PPEC Meeting

From Thursday, April 21, 2016 to Saturday, April 23, 2016 Palau Community College (PCC) will host a meeting for the Postsecondary Education Council (PPEC). PPEC is a non-profit, public corporation established in 1981 consisting of presidents and chancellors from higher education institutions in the United States of America as well as nations in the Pacific affiliated with the United States. It serves to address the concerns and needs of Pacific island post-secondary institutions. In addition, PPEC provides a network in which post-secondary institutions in the Pacific can share & discuss education topics. The current members of the council include higher education institutions from Hawaii, American Samoa, the Federated States of Micronesia (FSM), the Republic of the Marshall Islands (RMI), Guam, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands (CNMI), and the Republic of Palau. In addition to the meeting of presidents and chancellors, the PPEC gathering this year will include a special session with Dr. Barbara A. Beno and Dr. Steven M. Kinsella of the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges (ACCJC). Meetings of the chief academic officers as well as accreditation liaison officers will also be arranged.

Ministry of Health Donates EMT Books

EN-189: "Poets in the Making?"

contributed by Associate Professor Midori Mersai and Students

Students in the EN-189: Introduction to Literature Class, under the instruction of Associate Professor Midori Mersai, were recently challenged to create their own poetry. Despite self-doubt, the students picked up the gauntlet and produced the following very creative & original poetry. The poems were written in free-form style within the time limit of an hour. Associate Professor Mersai is very pleased with her students' creative efforts. A poem by her students will be proudly featured in the newsletter each week.

"My Daughter"

by Zariyah Seklii

A year ago, you came into this world
You were as tiny as a kitten
And as cute as a puppy.
Ever since then,
You have brought so much joy
Into the lives of the people around you...

I couldn't sleep properly,
For I was overjoyed with such a blessing.
Now, you are just so grown,
And I am ever more happy.
Even though you're as wild as a monkey,
You are still my #1,
And I wouldn't ask for more.
My daughter, I love you so much!

PCC Receives Water Tank Donation

On April 08, 2016 Palau Community College (PCC) received a 1,000 gallon water tank (bladder) for its Day Care Center. The donation was one of the relief goods distributed by the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA) on behalf of the Government of Japan. Japan is one of the countries providing assistance in support of Palau's drought relief efforts. The water tank will help PCC maintain normal operations until drought conditions improve. PCC thanks JICA, the Palau Ministry of State, the National Emergency Committee (NEC), the Palau Public Utilities Corporation (PPUC), and the Koror State Government for providing assistance. PCC also appeals to its students, staff, and customers to conserve water during these extreme drought conditions.

Present to witness the donation were PCC Cooperative Research & Extension (CRE) Vice President Thomas Taro as well as guests from the Ministry of Health and the Ministry of Justice (MOJ).

During the presentation, Minister Ngirmang acknowledge the importance of having well-trained medical emergency technicians. He commended the college for forming the training program and expressed the ministry's willingness to support its continuation. The college would like to thank the Ministry of Health for supporting its efforts in providing up-to-date medical training for Palau's emergency medical technicians.

Emergency medical technicians are clinically trained to respond effectively & immediately during emergency situations. They are often the first medical responders on the scene of traumatic incidents, such as care crashes or fires. EMTs can be part of the ambulance response teams, the fire-fighting teams, or the medical teams in the emergency rooms of hospitals. In February of this year, a total of seventeen (17) individuals were certified by the college after completing the training.

Alingano Maisu Arrives in Woleai Island

Alingano Maisu departing from the NECO Marine Dock in Malakal

On Wednesday, April 13, 2016 the double-hulled voyaging canoe Alingano Maisu arrived in Woleai Island in Yap State of the Federated States of Micronesia (FSM). The arrival occurred early in the morning and the crew members were greeted by the islanders. The crew members treated the islanders to a hearty & delicious breakfast of Cup Ramen Noodles. The stop-over in Woleai will allow the crew to rest and obtain supplies which, in turn, will help boost the island's economy.

The Maisu, as the canoe is commonly called, departed from Palau on March 15, 2016 beginning its voyage to Guam for the 2016 Festival of Arts. It is scheduled to make stop-overs at the islands of Ngulu, Woleai, Satawal, Saipan, Tinian, and Rota before sailing on to Guam for the opening ceremony of the festival. Alingano Maisu will be sailing back to Palau in early June.

PCC CAMPUS PROFILES

ELANGEL Y. MESUBED

FRESHMAN REPRESENTATIVE - ASPCC

"This may sound cliché but never give up & try your best when aiming to achieve your goals. Always strive for excellence!"

In Fall 2015, Elangel Y. Mesubed was elected to represent the student body as a Freshman Representative in the Associated Students of Palau Community College (ASPCC). As a student body representative, his main priority is to voice out the concerns of his fellow freshmen students. He graduated from Palau High School (PHS) in 2015 where he was also an active member of the Student Body Association. His hobbies included singing, playing the guitar, participating in various sports activities (such as volleyball & tables tennis), spending time with his friends, and being active on social media. Freshman Representative Mesubed is a member of the PCC Tourism Club and is enrolled under the Liberal Arts Program.
