Guest Speakers from Japan Hold NCD Lectures at PCC

Japanese guest speakers meeting with students from the HI-159 Class

Over a three-day period, five (5) guest speakers from Japan held lectures at Palau Community College (PCC) regarding non-communicable diseases (NCDs). The guest speakers met with students from the HI-159: World Civilization Class to conduct surveys as well as group discussions relating to NCDs in Palau. The students participated in the lectures as a part of their instruction about the evolution of food processing & development and how it has affected the formation of civilizations. HI-159 is taught by Instructor Loyola B. Darius.

The guest speakers were Associate Professor Dr. Takashi Mita (Institute for Academic Initiatives under Osaka University), Associate Professor Dr. Yoshihisa Hirakawa (Department of Public Health and Health Systems under the Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine), Assistant Professor Dr. Chifa Chiang (Department of Public Health and Health Systems under Nagoya University School of Medicine), Mizuki Sata (Department of Social and Environmental Medicine of Osaka University Graduate School of Medicine), and Professor Dr. Yukiko Hasebe (Department of Nutritional Science at Nayoro City University). UNESCO Officials Visit PCC

Satoko Yano and Mark Manns from the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) paid a visit to Palau Community College (PCC) on Wednesday, November 04, 2015. They met with PCC President Dr. Patrick U. Tellei to discuss the upcoming accreditation visits scheduled for February/March of next year. PCC President Dr. Tellei also shared with the visitors information about the college as well as the official college factbook. The visitors were accompanied by Aileen Mikel, an Education Specialist from the Palau Ministry of Education. Ms. Yano is a Programme Specialist for UNESCO and Mr. Manns is a UNESCO Research Assistant. The two were visiting Palau to assess the efforts of the Ministry of Education to plan and renew the Strategic Plan beyond 2016.

Upward Bound Program Orientation

Upward Bound Project Assistant Director Hellen Imanuel (standing at podium) and Counselor Debra Ngiraingas discussing the program with the high school students

The Upward Bound Program held an orientation session for its participants on Friday, November 06, 2015. Students from the local high schools attended the session to learn more about the Upward Bound classes, workshops, and related program information. Upward Bound Program Director Kuye Belelai, Upward Bound Assistant Project Director Hellen Imanuel, and Upward Bound Counselor Debra Ngiraingas were present to provide the students with the necessary information as well as answer questions they have about the program.

The orientation session opened with remarks from Program Director Belelai. Assistant Project Director Imanuel followed with an overview of the program's requirements, schedules, and conduct policy. Students were reminded that they were required to attend workshops as well as focus on their schoolwork during study periods. They were also reminded that it is important to show proper respect to one another, especially to the staff & counselors at the Upward Bound Program Office. Counselor Ngiraingas was also on hand to answer questions that the students had regarding their stipend, classes, etc.

Students participating in the program are required to attend tutoring sessions, counseling sessions, and workshops that are designed to improve their learning skills (such as time management and study habits).

In total, 110 high school students are participating in the Upward Bound Program from the local high schools including Palau High School, Palau Mission Academy, Mindszenty High School, Emmaus High School, Bethania High School, and Modekngai High School. UPWARD, CONTINUED ON PAGE 3

PNCC Donates Airtime as Prizes

In support of the upcoming Thanksgiving Endowment Fundraiser of Palau Community College (PCC), the Palau National Communications Corporation (PNCC) donated twenty (20) pre-paid mobile cards (airtime). It was presented by PNCC Sales Account Executive Pamela E. Anastacio and received on behalf of the college by PCC student Sky F. Meltel. The college would like to thank PNCC for its generous donation.

According to the guest speakers, the ratio of Palau's population and the number of its patients suffering from NCDs is higher than Japan's ratio, a country with a higher population. This comparison shows how poor health habits in Palau can lead to health risks that deter the overall well-being of the island's community.

The guest speakers taught the students about the importance of health evaluation through weight management, eating habits, and exercise routines. They suggested that the students maintain their weight through habits such as counting calories, taking note of the type of foods they eat, and eating in smaller portions. Students were also encouraged to omit certain foods from their diet such as canned food and drinks with high concentrations of sugar.

By conducting surveys and group discussions with the young people of Palau, the guest speakers from Japan hoped to gauge the health habits of Palau as well as promote good habits with its younger generation.

2015 PCC THANKSGIVING ENDOWMENT FUNDRAISER!

"Palau Community College is an accessible public educational institution helping to meet the technical, academic, cultural, social, and economic needs of students and communities by promoting learning opportunities and developing personal excellence."

2015 THANKSGIVING ENDOWMENT FUNDRAISING EVENT

An Annual Palau Community College (PCC) Event

The Endowment Fund is a critical component of the Fifteen-Year (15) Institutional Master Plan (2009-2020) of Palau Community College. The goal is to raise $10,000,000 by 2020. Palau Community College will ensure that Palau's only institution of higher learning continues to provide post-secondary education and career & technical training that meets the needs of Palau as well as the Micronesian region.

The National Government of Palau, in support of the PCC Endowment Fund, enacted RPPL 4-36 stating that financial contributions to PCC by individual employees are refundable up to 10% of the taxes paid by the employee in that tax year. This has enabled the College to garner the support of hundreds of employees in the public and private sector to help build the endowment fund.

"Show your support by purchasing a $10 Raffle Ticket! Help Palau's only institution of higher learning continue to provide the much needed academic programs & training that will help sustain the future of our islands."
