First Week of Instruction for PCC Spring Semester 2017

PCC students enjoying the campus on the First Week of Instruction of Spring 2017

The First Day of Instruction for the 2017 Spring Semester of Palau Community College was on Monday, January 16, 2017. Students flooded the college campus to attend their classes and meet with their instructors in preparation for the new semester. They also met with their Academic Advisors/Counselors at the PCC Student Life Office to finalize their academic plans.

This week was also the add-and-drop period. After attending the first day of class, students could change their class schedules in order to accommodate their personal obligations.

PCC is dedicated to helping each student achieve the highest success in their academic pursuits. Students are advised to take advantage of the services available, such as the peer tutoring sessions at the Learning Resource Center (LRC), and communicate openly with their Academic Advisors at the Student Life Office about their studies. On Thursday, January 12, 2017 Aquaculture Research Scientist Vincent Lugert paid a courtesy visit to Palau Community College (PCC). He met with PCC President Dr. Patrick U. Tellei and PCC Cooperative Research & Extension (PCC-CRE) Vice President Thomas Taro to exchange information about aquaculture projects in the Pacific region.

Mr. Lugert previously worked as an Aquacultural Researcher under the Land Grant Program at the College of the Marshall Islands (CMI). His duties included directing the CMI Aquaculture Research Program; hatchery of local marine species for local consumption, export, and restoration of wild stocks; developing methods & techniques for sustainable aquaculture in the Northern Pacific region; and technology transfer and consulting for local companies/farmers.

PEC Organizing Committee Meeting

Representatives from the Palau Ministry of Education (MOE) and Palau Community College (PCC) involved with organization of the 30th Pacific Educational Conference (PEC) met on Tuesday, January 17, 2017 at the PCC Assembly Hall. The committee members reviewed the necessary plans that are currently being made in anticipation of the educational conference. The 30th PEC is being hosted by Palau Community College and the Ministry of Education in collaboration with the Pacific Resources for Education and Learning (PREL). It is scheduled to take place in Palau from July 17, 2017 to July 30, 2017. The theme of is “Bedochel e Motekau el Kedul a Omesuub el Kirel a Klungioli a Rengalek (quality & sustainability in education for student success).”

PCC CONTINUING EDUCATION (CE) NON-CREDIT COURSES OFFERED

The Palau Community College Continuing Education (CE) is offering non-credit courses this week in the area of art and design training:

INTRODUCTION TO FABRIC DESIGN

Upon completion of this training, the trainee will acquire skills & knowledge of the basic techniques for designing tablecloths, pillow covers, and clothes as well as hands-on experience with tie-dye, sponge-printing, and stenciling techniques (contact hours: 40).

INTRODUCTION TO DRAWING

Upon completion of this training, the trainee will acquire basic knowledge & skills in drawing and sketching. The trainee will also gain familiarity with tools & techniques used in drawing and the foundation of all other forms of art. The trainee will also learn the effective use of the line and how to create texture, shading, and depth as well as the use of pencil, charcoal, and pen & ink in drawing various subjects such as still-life, human figures, and landscapes (contact hours: 12).

INTRODUCTION TO WATERCOLOR PAINTING

Upon completion of this training, the trainee will understand the world of watercolor painting and gain familiarity by creating abstract designs, still-life, landscapes, and portraits. This training will cover color-mixing, watercolor techniques, the types of brushes & paper, and also explore the painting techniques of blending, overlaying, and dry & wet brush (contact hours: 12).

INTRODUCTION TO PRINT-MAKING

Upon completion of this training, the trainee will be familiar with the art of making prints or multiple copies of an image. A variety of printing techniques such as rubber-stamping, leaf-printing, sponge-printing, and linoleum block-printing will be covered. Prints will be made on paper in water-based inks (contact hours: 18).

INTRODUCTION TO OIL-PAINTING

Upon completion of this training, the trainee will have explored the basics of oil-painting, learn about the different tools as well as basic guidelines for creating oil-paintings, learn about the basic concepts of backgrounds, center, focus, and highlighting. During this course, each participant will create his/her own Rock Island Masterpiece (contact hours: 20).

Please call 488-2470/2471 (extensions 251, 252, or 253) for more information.

The Tan Siu Lin PCC Library is also full of print materials & resources that will assist students with their research projects. Computers are also available for free-use by library users. If you would like more information regarding the materials or learning resources available at the Tan Siu Lin PCC Library, please call (tel): 488-3540.

Students are also encouraged to openly communicate with their instructors, especially if personal obligations may deter their academic studies. Although attendance is not mandated, instructors will expect students to attend classes and learn materials that they may have missed. If you need to inform your instructor about an absence or discuss issues related to your schoolwork, please call the PCC Academic Affairs Office at (tel): 488-4864.

Palau Community College reminds its students that they are responsible for their learning. Instructors will expect students to complete their academic obligations inside and outside of the classroom (e. g., conducting research or interviews). Poor grades will result in students being placed on academic probation and could lead to the loss of financial aid as well as suspension from the college.

The staff & faculty of the college are dedicated to the academic achievement of the students. If you are in need of assistance, do not hesitate to ask a faculty or staff member. The Office of the College President is also open to all students who may have grievances related to their studies.
