PCC Library Summer Activities Program

Students participating in the PCC Library Summer Activities Program

Over 50 elementary students ages 7-12 participated in the one-week PCC Library Summer Activities Program from July 3-7, 2017. The kids enjoyed a range of activities from learning traditional weaving skills; and math to spelling games. During the week, Yalap Yalap of Palau Conservation Society and Charlene Mersai of Palau Automated Land and Resource Information System (PALARIS) gave information on how to care for our environment in both land and ocean. Thanks to both Mr. Yalap and Ms. Mersai for their roles in the library week summer program. The last day of the summer program, students were treated to special kids movies. All children were able to obtain library cards and were oriented on how to use the online catalog to search for library books, which is a helpful skill that they could use throughout their educational years.
