CONSTRUCTION MANAGEMENT FIELD TRIP – CT 212

Instructor Suzette Hinojales' Construction Management class (CT 212) at construction site for New Prison at Ngchesar.

Construction Management Class went on a site visit with PNQ's Construction Manager, Tristan Fraser. Students were able to see how schedule and time is important on every construction project. With this field trip the students learned how challenging it is to be a Construction Manager who needs to often go on site visit to make sure the project is as specified and on schedule and most importantly within the budget. Mr. Fraser discussed bidding process (CLO 1), the importance of following the schedule (CLO 2), How the contract was discussed and usage of Contract Modification (CLO 3), and the safety requirements (CLO 5). Lastly the students received tips on how to become an effective construction manager.

Instructor Suzette Hinojales would like to thank PNQ Construction Company and Mr. Tristan.
