PCC-LRC Holds MLA Workshop

On October 25, 2017, the Palau Community College (PCC) - Learning Resource Center (LRC) held a Modern Language Association (MLA) Workshop from 6:00 pm to 7:00 pm at the Palau Community College Learning Resource Center.

Present to provide workshop information was Ms. Deidre Yamanguchi, English Instructor at LRC. Ms. Yamanguchi informed the students on the basics of in-text citation and creating a Works Cited page on essays, reports, and research papers. There were sixteen (16) dormitory residence from Yap, Chuuk, Kosrae, Pohnpei, and Republic of the Marshall Island, who attended the workshop most of whom are enrolled in English and Science classes here at PCC.

The purpose of the workshop was to reiterate the importance of documenting sources in papers written using outside sources and avoiding plagiarism.

The workshop information are the works of Modern Language Association with the mission to promote study and learning of languages and literatures through various programs, publications, and conventions. MLA published style guides for the association members to share their scholarly work and teaching experiences. LRC continues to offer the same workshop. Students who are interested should contact LRC at 488-3073 education at Palau Community College. Legislative findings indicated that Palau's youth lack the skills they need to become leaders of tomorrow by guaranteeing educational access to higher education for all Palauans.
