PCC CRE & Kayangel State Gov't Agricultural Projects

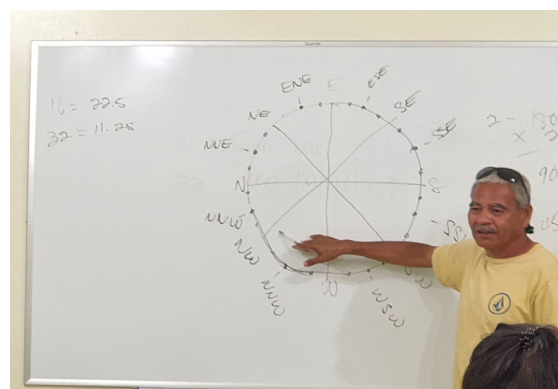

PCC and PHS students with CRE staff follow up visit to Kayangel State

PCC-CRE as a follow up to previous Coconut Rhinoceros Beetle (CRB) and agriculture trips with Kayangel Youth Association and Island Conservation is working directly with the Kayangel State Office to develop sustainable plant protection, agriculture and beautification of the Kayangel Atolls. Through an agreement with PVA and Kayangel State Government several members eligible for re-employment have been allocated to the project. These members have agreed to spend weeks at a time to assist in solid/green waste up and CRB trapping until December 2020. PCC-CRE has been working with PVA and Kayangel State Government to provide mechanism for training and equipping these re-employment members and local team members with the necessary skills and tools to move this project forward. Taiwan Technical Mission (TTM) and PCC Agriculture professionals have provided much needed technical assistance to try to develop this project into a pilot program for reviving agriculture and achieving food security

Non-Instrument Navigation Class Commence

PCC Grand Master Navigator Sesario Sewralur explaining "PAFIU" a numbering of stars

On September 15, 2020 Palau Community College in collaboration with Micronesian Voyaging Society and Grand Master Navigator Sesario Sewralur launch a non-instrument wayfinding class for open-ocean voyaging at Rriu building to over 10 students from the community. Students are currently learning the concept of "PAFIU" a numbering stars using star compass. The numbering stars are both in carolinian and english for students to understand. Stars are the main guiding points in compass used for navigation. Other navigation wayfinding techniques include sun, wind, clouds, sea, swells, birds, and fish. Traditionally, non-instrument navigation knowledge is based on rote learning and oral tradition.

PCC Hosts U.S. CONSTITUTION DAY ANNIVERSARY AT ASSEMBLY HALL

Inset: Guest Speaker CMI Steven Peterson and PCC President Dr. Tellei during Noon Time Seminar on U.S. Constitution

On September 17, 2020 Palau Community College in partnership with Civic Action Team in Palau featured two U.S. Constitution films in commemorating its 233th Anniversary.

The U.S. Constitutions established America's government and fundamental laws. It is the shortest national constitution in the world at 4,400 words and over 11,000 amendments proposed and only 27 were ratified. The constitution was written in Pennsylvania State House where the Declaration of Independence was signed and George Washington became the Commander of the Continental Army.

Palau Community College joined the U.S. Embassy in Palau, Civic Action Team, and U.S. citizens in Palau in celebrating the U.S. Constitution.
