PCC EXTENDS CONDOLENCES TO FORMER EMPLOYEE

Emma Ultirakl

Palau Community College (PCC) recently faced the unfortunate loss of former employee and long-time staff member, Ms. Emma Ultirakl.

Ms. Ultirakl worked as Food Service Cook I at Palau Community College, then Micronesian Occupational Center in 1974. Based on her cooking skills and work ethics, she was promoted to Food Service Supervisor I in 1978. In 1985, she was reclassified to Food Service Coordinator II, a position she held until her retirement from the college in 2003. The College community remember her as "Mamang" and will be remembered by many former MOC/ PCC alumni for her dedication and outstanding hospitality. The College is very grateful for her years of service and immense dedication and contributions.

Palau Community College Board of Trustees, President, Faculty, Staff, and most especially the students extend deep condolences to the family, friends, and relatives of Ms. Emma Ultirakl during this difficult time.

The session is to assist prospective students in filling out FAFSA application form including required parental income verification forms. Director of Financial Aid Isimechraard Ngirairikl also discussed Federal regulations regarding students eligibility, enrollment status, and available grants such as Pell, SEOG, and college work study program. This week, PCC Financial Aid staff continue to conduct financial aid sessions to other local high schools.

AVAILABLE TO INTERESTED READERS: ROLLING STONE MAGAZINE

Rolling Stone is an American monthly magazine that focuses on music, politics, and popular culture. It was founded in San Francisco, California, in 1967 by Jann Wenner, and the music critic Ralph J. Gleason. It was first known for its coverage of rock music and for political reporting by Hunter S. Thompson. In the 1990s, the magazine broadened and shifted its focus to a younger readership interested in youth-oriented television shows, film actors, and popular music.
