GOAL 1.1. The College will maintain a vibrant and diverse range of education and training programs/offering that reflects the changing learning environment to meet the needs of students and community, through exploring new possibilities for program development, enhancing current programs and discontinuing those no longer meeting the viable needs of students.	1.1.1 Ensure that Student Learning Outcomes (SLO) and Rubrics at the course, program, certificate, and degree levels are known and predictable	All courses and programs have SLO's and Rubrics and is a standard part of syllabus. SLOs are regularly assessed and changes are made when need arise. Student Learning Outcomes assessment at the course level and program level is scheduled at least once a school year. SLOs assessment is aligned with the semester by semester course offering. All courses scheduled for fall semester only are assessed in the fall; all courses scheduled for the spring semester only are assessed in the spring; all courses offered in the summer session only are assessed in the summer; all internship courses and student teaching courses are assessed anytime the course is offered; and general education courses such as math and English are assessed according to math and English departments calendar of assessments. Courses offered in the fall and spring are assessed according to individual program calendar. Student Learning Outcomes at the course, program/certificate and institutional levels are shared college-wide through CPC and the college website. Student Learning Outcomes are known	On-going
	1.1.2 By 2009, conduct current program/department reviews based on a three-year cycle	Program and Department reviews are implemented according to the review cycle calendar. All functions of the college are required to go through a program review every three years in a cycle. Program Reviews are submitted to IREO and are reviewed by IAC. A 10-Year Program Review Calendar was developed in 2014 and will end in 2024 scheduling all degree programs & certificates, academic departments, and services areas' expected Program Review Reports submission dates. Program Review Reports indicate action plans for academic programs and non-academic service areas that must be implemented within the next review cycle. Institutional Assessment Committee reviews the reports and presents its recommendations to the College President through the Executive Committee Meetings. Institutional Research and Evaluation Office helps academic and non-academic areas in ensuring the implementation of action plans. The College programs and service areas continue to conduct program reviews following the Institutional Assessment Calendar every three years.	On-going
	1.1.3 By 2010, PCC will utilize program assessment results to improve programs	Has met with Advisory Committees to improve programs; CPC is working on assessment with program chairs regarding assessment results. Assessment results develop or revise action plans accordingly to meet the needs of students. Every academic and non-academic ea need to carry on their action plans to improve College services to ensure success. Assessment results must drive action plans, implementation, budgeting and institutional improvements. Programs and service areas uses their program assessments results to plan, to make decisions and to implement plans to improve services and to help ensure students succeeds and institutional effectiveness. Goal 1.11. The Cooperative Research and Extension Division will collaborate with partners and clients to generate, develop, and disseminate practical, relevant and sustainable technologies and knowledge in agriculture, environment, food and human sciences to benefit the people of Palau.	1.11.1 Global Food Security and Hunger	CRE continues to provide outreach programs on issues of food safety and quality, including food security. The department continues to provide different activities annually to help educate the public and communities on how to secure food for the future through agriculture and aquaculture. Other outreach programs continued on issues ranging from food safety and quality, food security, families and youths relationships. In 2021, two hundred seventy-five (275) people were provided with various vegetable and fruit tree seedlings. The plants were distributed to the community during the annual fair with hands-on training on how best to grow their vegetables and fruit trees in their farms as well as their individual home gardens. As a result of the extension activity, numerous members of the community came up with creative ways of making small gardens around their homes and yards. This gave them access to fresh garden produce to supplement their diets. This goes to show that we can increase community- driven productivity by strengthening the family unit.	On-going
	1.11.1.1 Promote Integrated Pest Management (IPM)	Pest management programs are provided throughout the year to inform farmers of agricultural production practices that protect the fragile island ecosystem integrity and biodiversity. Programs also included resistant crop varieties and practical biological pest control measures to provide useful tools for stakeholders to combat crop pests and diseases and increase productivity. The trainings also emphasized on the reduce of pest threats on crops using beneficial organisms. The pest management programs also includes the use of bio control agents for the control of invasive weeds and pests of taro and cassava to local farmers to protect their fields and crops. In August 2017, CRE conducted a four-days workshop on Pesticide Applicator. Twenty participants attended the training where they learned major pests and their control as well as control measure for each major pest, including how to use chemicals for control of pests. CRE continues to help educate the public and communities on this subject matter. 2019 - Other outreach programs continued on issues ranging from food safety and quality, food security, families and youths relationships. Health and nutrition programs continued on the importance of healthy lifestyles, which included physical activity and consumption of safe and nutritious local food to combat obesity, diabetes, heart diseases and other NCDs. Sustainable agriculture and Integrated Pest Management (IPM) programs provided farmers information on agricultural production practices that protect the fragile island ecosystem integrity and biodiversity. Programs continued on resistant crop varieties and practical biological pest control measures to provide useful tools for stakeholders to combat crop pests and diseases and increase productivity. The use of beneficial or-ganisms was emphasized to reduce pest threats on crops.	On-going
	1.11.1.2 Support the development of tissue culture technology	2019 - Field Planting of Pineapple - there were 476 tissue cultured pineapple planted in the field. Basal application of compost and complete fertilizer was done in each hole prior to field planting. Luxuriant growth of the plants are being observed. Acclimatization of Breadfruits Plants - PCC-CRE received 288 breadfruit plants propagated by tissue culture from Hawaii and currently acclima-tization of those plants is conducting to grow outside and give out farmers of the community. This activity aims to promote growing breadfruits in Palau.	On-going

Goal 1.11. The Cooperative Research and Extension Division will collaborate with partners and clients to generate, develop, and disseminate practical, relevant and sustainable technologies and knowledge in agriculture, environment, food and human sciences to benefit the people of Palau.	1.11.2 Promote the development of the aquaculture industry	2021- The collection and rearing of Sandfish and Mangrove Crabs for release in the community has been the source of major work at the PCC-CRE Hatchery facility. 2019 - Rabbitfish (Siganus sp.) - Series of larval rearing trials for the rabbitfish were continued at PCC hatchery and about 11,900 rabbit-fish (Siganus lineatus) juveniles were delivered to established fish farm around Palau. A series of hatchery production trials have been conducted to produce mangrove crab juveniles at PCC-Hatchery. A total of 1,800,000 newly hatched mangrove crab zoeae were stocked in a 10-ton capacity lar-val rearing tank. These zoeae were part of the estimated 2.1 million larvae that were hatched from the crab that spawned. Out of the 1,800,000 mangrove crab zoeae, about 5,000 were recovered. These crabs further grew inside the nursery tanks to further grow them to about 2-inch carapace crablets for stocking to the grow-out farms. Crabs that were grown to 2 inches were delivered to three crab farmers, Huebert Lem-ong, Silas Kingzio, and Rubeang Nabeyama. A total of 225 crablets (1-inch carapace width) were also utilized for a 3-month experiment on the effect of adding feed supplements on the growth and survival rate of crablets in the nursery tanks. This experiment was terminated after 2 months of rearing. Nutritional analysis of the crab samples and Statistical analysis of the data is currently being done at Oceanic Institute. The rest of the crablets were kept in the nursery tank to further grow them until they became ready for distribution to local mangrove crab farmers. Aside from supporting the existing crab farms, the PCC researcher and the Extension Agent accommodated the inquiries of three interested clients in Ngaraard State named Otobed Rdialul, Francis Elkang, and Meriu Wachi. These clients sought technical assistance in line with their interest in farming the mangrove crabs. The PCC aquaculture staff visited the client's proposed project site and provided recommendations with respect to the suitable design for the crab farm. A total of 20,000 high-quality milkfish fry were delivered to local farms for stocking in their nursery ponds on March 8 and 21, 2018. These milkfish fry were produced out of the 42,000 good eggs that were collected at the floating milkfish broodstock cage in Ngatpang State last February 7, 2018.	On-going
	1.11.3 Food Safety	Other outreach programs continued on issues ranging from food safety and quality, food security, families and youths relationships. 	1.11.4.1 Support food nutrition and healthy living	2021- Twenty five participants attended the first POGA workshop. The participants of the workshop consisted of local farmers and business owners who have shown interest in converting their farms and products from conventional to organic. The participants were able to complete a two-part workshop addressing soil health and plant nutrition followed by a field trip to the Bureau of Agriculture and PCC CRE's Research and Development station for composting demonstration, the demonstration of various horticulture techniques, and observation of different agricultural techniques which both agencies have used to address different agricultural issues on the island. culture species to farmers to formulate and prepare their own feeds. Other projects provided stock enhancement to replenish depleted stocks.	On-going

PCC 15 Year Master Plan Report Card

Status Date: February 2023 (Information & Data - Program Review Reports, Annual Reports & different offices)

STRATEGIC DIRECTION 3. RESOURCES

The College will diversify and increase resources to provide quality programs and services, facilities, technology, and human resources to support its vision, mission and goals. The College will be prudent in the allocation of its resources.

Goal	Sub Goal (Objectives)	Progress Report / Accomplishment Details	Status
GOAL 3.4 Human Resources. The college will recruit, hire, promote and retain a diverse and qualified workforce needed to achieve institutional priorities.	3.4.1 Have diverse, qualified and appropriately credentialed personnel.	PCC is an equal opportunity employer. The college advertises vacancies on the web and through public announcements hoping to pull in qualified prospects from all walks of life. When applications or inquires are received, HR forwards a "new applicant" checklist that includes what is required from PCC. This checklist informs the applicant/prospect to submit an application, resume, official transcripts, cover letter and a police clearance. By completing the checklist HR works to certify that all personnel are qualified and appropriately credentialed.	On-going
	3.4.2 Review periodically the Personnel Rules and Regulations (PRR) Manual	The Personnel Rules and Regulations manual is currently being reviewed by the college president. After the college president's review, the PRRM will be going to the Board of Trustees for their review and approval. Approval will be disseminated college wide for implementation.	On-going
	3.4.3 Improve and expand staff and faculty development programs	HR keeps a list of training needs suggested or requested on employees annual reviews. By identifying the training needs of individual staff members HR works to consolidate needs that affect the most individuals. Through the annual review HR also works on identifying problem areas that may require training not suggest in the review. PCC provides professional developments to all employees through the Institutional Effectiveness trainings for faculty every fall semester and to administrators and classified staff every spring semester; associate degrees, dachelors degrees and masters degrees with PCC and SDSU; various off island trainings in the topics of accreditation, student support services, USDE, USDA, science foundation, TRIO programs, and economic meetings amongst others. The college continues to promote employee knowledge and skills through different trainings and workshops throughtout theyear.	On-going

GOAL 3.4 Human Resources. The college will recruit, hire, promote and retain a diverse and qualified workforce needed to achieve institutional priorities.	3.4.4 Review periodically the performance appraisal and evaluation process	The last review was on August 2011. HR will suggest that the policy review committee review the form after it has completed its review of the PRRM. The Performance Appraisal and evaluation process are reviewed on a regular basis and/or when need arise. The college appoints a committee to review the different processes in place for their relevancy and accuracy.	On-going
	3.4.5 Establish benefits for faculty and staff	The college continues to establish benefits for employees called for under the RPPL 4-2. The HRD works with the ROP Pension Plan, SS Administration, different insurance agencies to receive updates of the different benefits and provide accurate information to all college employees. The college established a retirement plan for non-FSA citizens as another benefit to those employees who are not qualified for the ROP pension plan.	On-going
	Salary Increment	The Personnel Rules and Regulations manual is currently going through a comprehensive review by a committee appointed by the college president and headed by the HR Director. A complete first reading has been completed and the committee needs to meet to discuss the first reading changes and to decide on the next course of action. The college will continue to follow its salary increment defined in the PRRM approved by the College Board of Trustees.	On-going
	Career Development	HR keeps a list of training needs suggested or requested on employees annual reviews. By identifying the training needs of individual staff members HR works to consolidate needs that affect the most individuals. Through the annual review HR also works on identifying problem areas that may require training not suggest in the review. GOAL 4.2 The Institutional Research Office will provide information about the FAMED assessment cycle, generate an assessment plan and continue to coordinate institutional research and assessment practices at PCC.	4.2.1 Familiarize the FAMED assessment cycle to support the administrative decision-making processes	FAMED Assessment cycle is used in planning and decision-making process. It is being utilized by all academic degree programs and academic departments; non-instructional areas, and non-academic areas for assessments. There is a need to make sure that the decision-making process includes data, analysis, and action plans in place and should be integrated with institutional planning, institutional budget, and implementation. Trainings have been conducted on a regular basis as to how action plans from data results should be integrated with institutional planning where decision-making of the college should be focused on the action plans and formulation of budget and implementation of the budget should support the action plans to ensure student success and institutional effectiveness. However, there are times when action plans are not met because there was no conducive planning and implementation.	On-going
	4.2.2 Develop and implement IR and Assessment Plan	The Institutional Assessment Calendar 2014-2024 has been developed and implemented. All functions of the college are required to go through program review every three years in a cycle. Program reviews are submitted to IREO and are reviewed with final recommendation to the college President through the Institutional Assessment Committee (IAC). The college Institutional Assessment Manual was developed in 2016 and is in full implementation.	On-going
	4.2.3 Continue to coordinate institutional research and assessment practices through regular meetings/trainings of PPEC Member institutions-adopted from PPEC Multi-Year Strategic Plan	Institutional Research practices is continually coordinated with IR's in the region through meetings and trainings conducted by PPEC, AIR, and PacAir.
