ADMISSIONS & RECORDS GETS FACELIFT TO BETTER SERVE STUDENTS

Admissions and Records Office during renovation

Admissions and Records Office after renovation

The Palau Community College (PCC) has had several renovations in the last month. Renovations were completed in the Miich Building and Tekrar Building. In the Miich Building, the neighboring offices Admissions and Records and Bookstore had work done to improve the walls, flooring, desks, and was repainted. For the Tekrar building, they installed PCC Assembly Hall II, as well as new offices, which are the Governors Association Office and the 12th Constitutional Government Inauguration Office. PCC is thankful to provide the use its facilities to the public and help our community.

Palau Community College is an accessible comprehensive public educational institution helping to meet the technical, academic, cultural, social, and economic needs of students and communities by promoting learning opportunities and developing personal excellence.

Bookstore after renovation

Tekrar Building's new offices and Assembly Hall II

The Admissions and Records Office is now able to hold up to 15 students or guests. The Bookstore is now more spacious with a new freezer and more varieties of snacks, drinks and bento. The Tekrar Building's offices are currently being used. The Assembly Hall II can now be arranged for use, through the same process as the primary Assembly Hall in the Dort Building. The renovations came about as a result of worn out building parts. The new office spaces were made for the students, staff, as well as the public if needed. For more information about using the spaces, call 488-2470/2471.

NEW SCIENCE AND HEALTH BUILDING UPDATE

New building between Track & Field and Tan Siu Lin PCC Library

The new Health and Science Building being built between PCC Track & Field and the Tan Siu Lin PCC Library is making its way to its final building stages. The construction workers are now painting, installing stair hand rails, doors, windows and is expected to finish before May. It is planned to be used in the upcoming South Pacific Games from June to July 2025. Through PCC's architect Ms. Divine Ragundi, the building was constructed with efficient space to accommodate students, staff, guests, as well as the equipments that will be stored and used. Stay informed of the grand opening ceremony of the building through the PCC Mesekiu Newsletter and PCC Facebook page.
